She moved back between-the-rivers to be near relatives and raised her four daughters by raising tobacco and corn and doing domestic work for people. There was no government aid at that time to help out.

FOOSHEE

In the early eighteen hundreds a young man by the name of Fooshee emigrated from France and settled in west Tennessee. There he met a Miss Vaughn and they were married. They had three sons; Thomas, George, and Sidney Marion. This family history was handed down by Madge Fooshee Rhoades, a daughter of Sidney Marion Fooshee whose descendants will be our concern.

Guy and Margaret Fooshee

Sidney Marion came to the section of Trigg County known as Between the Rivers, where he met and married Eliza Mildred Franklin August 8, 1874. Millie, as she was known, was the daughter of Thomas Green Franklin and Mary Ann Brown Franklin. Sidney Marion and Eliza Mildred lived in west Tennessee (probably Obion County) where Effie, Ollie, Annie, and Thomas Carl were born. Madge and George Ernest were born in Trigg County.

In 1904 Thomas Carl married Nora Lawrence from Lyon County. Their children are Dora Lee, Sidney Thomas, Felix, Guy Edward, and Lawrence. Nora died and is buried in the Smith cemetery near Golden Pond.

Thomas Carl married Beulah Ray Newberry, a native of Stewart County, Tennessee. Their children are: Elmer Ray, Henry, and Lewis. Thomas Carl died in Colorado April 21, 1930. Interment was in Colorado Springs.

Margaret, the youngest child of Robert Lindsay and Zilpah Spiceland Nunn attained her early education at Dry Creek, a one room school, and graduated from Cadiz High School in May 1927. She began her teaching career at Pryor Hollow in 1935 where she met Guy Fooshee. They were married in Christian County by a well-known minister, L.L. Spurlin. They lived in Colorado for several months but returned to Trigg County to make their permanent home. Margaret has been a member of Linton Methodist Church since July 28, 1921.

For several years Guy farmed in partnership with Joe E. Nunn, his brother-in-law. Later he began public work as a carpenter, then as a pipe-fitter until he retired. Since his retirement he has busied himself working with wood. He has built many beautiful pieces of furniture and for a number of years went to Arts and Crafts shows.

Margaret and Guy are the parents of three children: Robert Thomas, Joe Lee, and Margaret Anne. When Anne entered school the mother returned to the school room and taught until she retired in 1969. Robert Thomas (Bobby) lives in Christian County and is employed at Ft. Campbell. Joe Lee lives in Trigg County and operates a sawmill. Anne lives in Glen Carbon, Illinois. She and her husband Ray Higgins, own and operate a Honda motorcycle shop. The grandchildren are: Robert Thomas Fooshee, Jr., Sidney Guy Fooshee, Sandra Lee Fooshee, Gina and Rene Higgins. Bradley Thomas Fooshee is the only great-grandchild.

FOOSHEE-BOGARD

The character and heritage of Trigg County has affected, and been affected by, many — some have left more lasting impressions than others, but all are the product of their heritage and have woven themselves into the mesh of the history of their environs.

George Ernest Fooshee (1887-1950) was the grandson of a French immigrant who settled in West Tennessee and married Miss Vaughn — a sister of Tilda Vaughn, Mrs. Kale Smith, of Trigg County. One of the sons of that marriage, Sidney Marion Fooshee (ca 1852-1889), a teacher, came to the between-the-rivers area of Trigg County and in 1874 married a Trigg County girl, Eliza Mildred (Millie) Franklin, the daughter of Mary Ann Brown and Thomas Green Franklin, and the granddaughter of Mary Playle and Sylus Franklin, and Nancy Melton and Hardin Brown. Millie and Sidney Fooshee had five children who lived to adulthood: Ollie (Mrs. Felix Franklin) of Marshall County; Alpha (Mrs. Luther Sanders) of Cadiz; Thomas Carl (Nora Lawrence, Beulah Ray Newberry) of Colorado Springs, Colorado; Madge (Mrs. Euen Rhoades) of Colorado Springs; and George Ernest. After the death of Sidney, Millie married King Birdsong and they had two daughters: Mae (Mrs. Leroy Nelson) of Paducah who married again after the death of Mr. Nelson; and Etta (Mrs. Euen Newton) of Golden Pond.

After the remarriage of his mother, Ernest lived with his sister Ollie Franklin. He received his education in Marshall County and the Normal at Bowling Green, Kentucky. He taught in Marshall County several years before earning a law degree from Cumberland Law University in Lebanon, Tennessee. He practiced law in Colgate, Oklahoma, returning to Kentucky about 1914 where he taught near Golden Pond. At a teachers' meeting he met Kitty Bogard (1893-1971) who was teaching at Rockcastle. They were married January 5, 1915, and moved to Hope, Arkansas, where they both taught until their return to Golden Pond.

Kitty Bogard was the youngest child of Emeline Gordon (1845-1901) and William Arthur Bogard (1842-1906), the granddaughter of Elitha Griffin (1819-1890) and Charles C. Bogard (1814-1854), and Sarah and Andrew Gordon, and the great-granddaughter of William Bogard and Adar Chism and Elizabeth Hern and Arther Griffin and the great-great-granddaughter of Mary and James Hern. After his return from the Civil War, William Arthur Bogard married Emeline Gordon in 1866, and the six of their eleven children who lived to adulthood were: John Boyd, Rose Luton, and Minnie Turner) of Golden Pond; Ada Mae (Mrs. Hugh Miller) of Golden Pond; Carl (Minnie Smith) of Golden Pond; George T. (Jet Doty) of Lexington, Kentucky; Dollie (Mrs. Charles Baber) of Golden Pond; and Kitty. After the deaths of Kitty's parents, most of her time was spent in school at Bethel Female College, Hopkinsville, until she began teaching.

After Kitty and Ernest returned to Kentucky from Arkansas, he was instrumental in the establishment of the first rural mail route out of the Golden Pond postoffice and served as carrier of that route until his retirement in the late 1940s with the exception of a period from 1926 to 1930 when he was a letter carrier in Paducah, Kentucky. During the early 1920s Ernest and Burney Miller recognizing the growing popularity of "moving pictures," rented the Masonic Hall in Golden Pond, obtained a projector and a dynamo for electric power and opened Golden Pond's first picture show, but because of the unpredictable delivery of movie reels and so forth, the movie venture was not long-lived. Left with a generator on hand, Ernest wired his house and had electric lights.

Kitty and Ernest's three daughters, Dorothy Lute (Mrs. Joe K. Gilbreath, Jr.), Elizabeth (Beth) Ann (1919-1984) (Mrs. Charles R. Gilbert, Jr.), and Marjorie (Mrs. Orion W. Harris), were born in Trigg County.

After Ernest's death, August 27, 1950, Kitty returned to teaching at Golden Pond which was by then a grade school. She taught there until she went to Nashville, Tennessee, to make her home with her daughter Beth and her family where she lived until her death December 17, 1971. Both Kitty and Ernest are buried in the Bogard Family cemetery at Golden Pond.
