

Summary of
Phyllis E loise Flood's
Flood Family

My name is Phyllis E loise Flood (now Klugas). I was born in Oklahoma City, Ok to Samuel E dward Flood, Sr. (born Aug. 12 1917 in Oklahoma City, OK) and Katherine Louise (born 9-25-22 in Wetumka, OK.) Samuel and Katherine were married in March 1959. Samuel died in July 1986 in Moore, OK and is buried in Oklahoma City. Katherine died 4-24-2002 in Norman, OK and is also buried in Oklahoma City.

My grandfather was Samuel E dward Flood, Sr. b. 5-24-1888. He told me when I was a child that he rode a pony in one of the land runs of Oklahoma as a boy. His dad, Zachary Flood, already had a general store at the corner of Reno and Broadway in Oklahoma City, but also staked claims in Cleveland Co. Flood Street in Norman, OK, is supposedly named after some of Zachary's clan.

My grandmother's name was Ruby Garrett. According to my mother, my middle name, E loise, was to appease Grandma Flood, as E loise was her mother's name.

My father and his first wife divorced. I have a half brother named Donald E dward Flood, who would be about 61 right now.

I once saw a picture of Sam, Sr. on horseback with Teddy Roosevelt at a Military Parade in Oklahoma City, and at one time there were some audio recordings of him done by the Oklahoma Historical Society, when they noticed the last of all the 1889'ers had almost all died off.
